John B. Simeone
CTO & VP, Trust Services

John B. Simeone joined Legacy after a long career in computer systems and financial services. Over the past two decades, John has filled CEO, CTO and VP, R&D positions at both US and Canadian companies. This history has created a highly experienced, entrepreneurial executive with an unusual combination of managerial, technical, marketing and sales expertise.

John has been responsible for large scale project development in areas as diverse as stockholder recordkeeping and cellular switch administration. John's most recent business experience has been Chief Technology Officer at a company pioneering a new digital trade payables settlement and securitization system.

Knowledgeable in all phases of new business activities including business planning, product development, product management, recruitment, capital acquisition and positioning strategy, John has particular experience as a legal liaison officer, especially in the areas of contracts, patents, copyrights and litigation. He brings all of these attributes to the position of CTO & VP, Trust Services at Legacy Leaders.
