Julia Magnuson-Ford
Associate Director, Operations

Julia Magnuson-Ford brings a wealth of knowledge and experience to Legacy Leaders. Combining her graduate level education alongside her employment history in the charitable sector, Julia has been an integral part of many projects and programs benefiting communities all across Canada.

Involved in the charitable sector from an early age, she has first-hand knowledge of the importance of fundraising and long term solutions for non-profit organizations. Her previous work experience includes extensive involvement with Canadian food banks at both local and national levels. Julia's experience also includes working with non-profit organizations addressing concerns such as poverty, food security, and HIV/AIDS in Africa

Julia draws on her experiences working with a wide variety of people in diverse environments. She holds her Honours Bachelors of Arts from the University of Winnipeg and her Masters of Arts from the University of Toronto in Political Science, where her thesis focused on non-profit organizations in Canada. Julia has also completed training in group facilitation, strategic planning and project management.
